

sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Political interests should not control public airwaves Democratic, Republican, or Independent. Realize that if Fahrenheit 9/11 were to be broadcast in a similar fashion I would also feel this would be completely inappropriate to do so.

But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line (and personal agendas) and less of what we need for our democracy.

sinclair's actions are well outside the boundaries of what is acceptable broadcasting, especially in a time when the FCC has become so proactive in the quest to only air appropriate programming over public airwaves. The FCC should uphold a uniform standard and not allow such bias broadcasting and to rid the airwaves of all inappropriate content.
